Well, here we go. The title's a work in progress but, I've decided to give this kind of story a shot so please send in characters. I'm going to leave the form below and then one on my profile also. This is going to be a story about€| An amount of kids and perhaps eventually an amount of trolls who of course play a game that signals the end of the world and who plays the game is determined by you all who read this and decide to send characters in. I'm going to leave this to accumulate forms and things which it may or may not do due to what's going to happen a certain amount of days after I publish this but I do hope that it'll get attention because I think that it could be great.

So now let's get to the form part of this.

Name & Surname: (What is your character's name? There's no limit on the amount of letters that can be in the name of the kid that you're submitting so feel free to submit someone with a more than four letter name. Surname should be included too of course.)

Theme: (Is there any theme that they have? The Kids in Homestuck have elemental themes of Fire for Dave, Water for Rose, Earth for Jade and Air for John, we don't have to have a large set of themes though. It can be pretty much anything like Moonlight or something general like Flower Language, but don't make it anything silly and don't just choose it to make your character cool or edgy or "badass" like some people do.)

Text Colour: (Give me about two or three different colours they would type in. I don't want everyone to have the same text colour and since you all won't know what others are submitting most likely it'll be hard to pick a completely original colour. Though it may not be all that hard depending on how many submissions I get.)

Symbol: (What is the symbol on their shirt, or somewhere on their clothes that consistently represent them? John had his ghost, Rose has her squiddle, Jane has the atom and the dog, Dave has the record. Things like that. I may slightly change them if they're too close to another kid that I want to accept's symbol.)

Age: (Anywhere between 13 and 18, all of them will be the same age based on the average age of all of the submissions but for now you can choose whatever you want.)

Gender/Sex: (Please put their gender and pronouns. If they're cis then you should put that, if they're trans you should put that and if they're non-binary you should put what they are if they're anything specific (agender, genderfluid, pangender, etc.) whatever should be okay if you just include something along with pronouns that they use yee.)

Chumhandle: (What would they use for their chumhandle? Give me two or three ideas of what they might use since I want everyone to have good chumhandles, I don't want to repeat letter combinations and I also want everyone to be happy with what their character gets for the most part so yeah.)

Strife Specibus: (What are two or three possible things in their life that they could use as a strife specibus? This should make sense for the character that you're planning, and be creative but please don't give them anything that'll be too silly. They're fun and humorous and then there's uncomfortable and hard to work with so make sure to check this before you decide on what they could use.)

Modus: (Maybe one to three ideas for the name of the modus that your character can use? I'll probably figure out what it does on my own seeing as it's generally very hard to come up with ideas for modi so I will make this an optional category as well so I'll let you pick if you want to put anything here.)

Guardian: (Who's their legal guardian? Mom, Dad, Cousin, Aunt, Uncle, Brother, Sister, Grampa or Grandmother? They'll become relevant post scratch if there is one so please include a short description of them and what they're like here as well seeing as it'd be best to have an idea of what you want that character to be like.)

House & Room: (What is their house like? How big is it? Where is it? What's around it? How big is their room? How clean is it? What's in it? All that kind of stuff. Keep it detailed but not too detailed, since I still need room to work around things.)

Build: (What type of build they have? Are they athletic? Are they chubby or plump? Are they a skinny twig? If they'd DFAB [Designated Female At Birth] are their breasts big, small, average, etc. Why are they built like this? Do they eat unhealthily? Do they exercise regularly?

Height: (What is their height in feet and inches like 6'1" or 5'7" or 5'2" but if that's not great then you should put it in centimeters.)

*Ethnicity & Location: (Where in the world are they from? What race are they? Are they Indian? Are they Black? Are they White? Are they Asian? Hispanic? Where are they specifically from, Spain, America, Ireland, Australia, Japan, or somewhere else? It helps me describe them if I know this kind of thing.)

*Clothing & Hair: (What style of clothes do they wear? Do they wear T-Shirts? Hoodies? Blazers and button ups? Do they wear sweatpants? Skirts? Dresses? Do they have boots or sneakers? Do they wear high heels? Why do they wear what they wear, is it because they're self conscious and want to cover themselves? Do they want to be all glamorous? Is it for practical reasons? Or do they just like to wear what they wear? What is their hair colour and also what is their hair style? What is the hair's texture? Is it long or short, etc.)

*Body Mods & Glasses: (Do they need glasses? Do they have piercings? Do they have tattoos? What are the tattoos of? Where are they? Where are the piercings? What are they like? Are the glasses round, square, pointed or what? Do they just wear contacts or do they wear sunglasses?)

*Positive Traits: (At least five positive traits here, please don't go beyond ten.)

*Negative Traits: (At least five negative traits here, please don't go beyond ten.)

*Interests: (Five different interests - that they actually have objects and items in their room and house about so they can alchemise relevant items - that wouldn't be hard to do research on and aren't too specific. For example they could be interested in Music and a specific genre of it too, but making them interested in only specific bands would be frustrating though you could give one or two specific bands if you really want.)

*Odd Habits: (Do they have any odd habits?)

*Aspirations: (What do they aspire to do pre-game? Do they want to be a doctor? Or a celebrity? Do they just want to be a happy person? What is it that they really want in life, even if it's just to know what they're doing with their life?)

*Dislikes: (Between five and ten things that they dislike to the point of it being relevant every now and then)

*Strength: (Three to six strengths that are actually useful on a regular basis. Why do they have this strength?)

*Weaknesses: (Three to six weakness that actually hinder them specifically on a regular basis, and why it hinders them as well as how the weakness developed?)

*Self Esteem: (Are they very confident? Do they hate themselves? Why?)

*Perception: (Are they optimistic? Cynical? Pessimistic or realisitic? An idealist? What's their attitude to how they see the world? Do they see the worst in things, but have a positive attitude? Or do they see realistically but decide to be negative?)

Romantic Pref: (Do they have no preference? Boys only, girls only? Neither or nothing? Do they like boys more than others, or others more than girls but girls more than boys? What's their romantic orientation?)

Sexuality: (Same as above basically, but more physically)

Anything you want them to do, or anything you want to happen to them?: (You can ask me here to do whatever with your character! I can't guarantee anything, but I will take everyone's requests into account provided that they're reasonable!)

Anything marked with an () is optional.*

So that's it! I'll be waiting on submissions and I hope that we'll have a cool adventure together in this fic. I'll put this form on my profile for easy copy paste. After you've finished filling out all of the form as much as you can please send it IN PMs. Don't send forms in reviews they just clog the place up, spoil the character for everyone and it's not fun to deal with them even if they were a good character. I'll assume that multiple PMs means more detail since you aren't just squeezing everything and also please delete everything in brackets after you've filled out what you need to fill out. Thank you, that's all.
